

Library Tax Rate Drops 1 1/3 Cents

Trustees of the Placentia Library District, handed a windfall from the Orange County assessor of an anticipated 21.6 per cent increase in assessed valuations here, will return $.0131 per $100 valuation to the taxpayers, the board decided unanimously Wednesday night.

The decision will bring a drop in the library tax rate for the first time in seven years from the top assessment legally allowed of $.3431 for each $100 valuation, to 33 cents per $100 valuation.

With the 21.6 per cent assessment increase expected, this will not necessarily mean a decrease in tax bills but will bring the district within one dollar of their projected budget deemed necessary to operate the district for the coming year.

The total amount involved between the two tax rates is in the neighborhood of $2,000.

After considerable discussion by the four trustees present at the Wednesday meeting, newly reelected board president Victor Michel set the tone for the decision: "I'm going to say it," he announced to fellow trustees. "I think the assessor went overboard this year on the assessed valuations."

Dialogue on whether the trustees would set a precise tax rate or an estimated one, leaving the final figure up to county authorities, (to adjudicate on the amount needed to finance the budget) was decided in favor of designating a specified amount.

Michel added: "I think we ought to be able to say when we leave here tonight, that we are reducing the tax rate $.0131 and not leave it up in the air. If it comes up a little short it comes out of account 420 (structures and improvements)...if it comes up a little long, it goes into 420."

Trustees considered the fact that previous assessment increases

"were probably from new business, newcomers."

"But I think this year, a good chunk of this is coming from the people, where in former years it was from new building. And I think it should be returned to the people," Michel stated his opinion.

Michel pointed out that the best way to set the tax rate would be to find out what your budget is, then find out what your assessed valuation is and set your tax rate accordingly.

"But it doesn't work that way," he added, "because your budget has to be approved by the end of July and you don't know what your assessed valuation is until August."

Trustees, however, left the door open to restore the cut next year if the district appeared to need it to function. They also pointed out the district's accomplishments on the past .3431 rate with which "we have built a new facility, increased our materials and services and tripled our staff."

Vote from the trustees on the tax rate was unanimous with newly reelected board secretary Kathy McKnight out of the city.

The library's budget for the present fiscal year has been set at $611,459, covering $230,000 for wages, retirement and benefits; $204,400 for services and supplies, including new books. Total fixed assets are listed at $167,032 and a contingency fund at $10,027. General reserves are $201,387.

The district's capital reserve funds are a result of the sale of property once owned at Morse Avenue and Kraemer Boulevard. The profits from that sale are now drawing interest. Present payments on the new facility are $72,000 a year.

This year's library budget is $80,000 larger than the 1975-76 document.

6 1/2 Square Miles Xs 4,740 = Placentia

Placentia, in the lower half of Orange County cities in size (there are eight smaller), is in the top half in the tax rate (11 are higher), it is outlined in the 1976 Orange County Progress Report distributed by the Board of Supervisors this week.

Placentia with 6.6 square miles is identical in size to Yorba Linda with other Orange County cities ranging in circumference from Irvine's 40.5 square miles to La Palma's 1.6.

This city's tax rate is $1.22 per $100 assessed valuation (excluding a 5 per cent utility tax). Fourteen cities have a lower tax with all the rates ranging from Laguna Beach's $1.95 to no tax in Yorba Linda.

Placentia's assessed valuation at $15,079,150 finds 15 cities with higher rates, putting it in the lower half, fitting in with its size. Anaheim with Disneyland and the Angel stadium, claims the highest valuation at $109,238,170 and Stanton the lowest with $3,836,875.

With a population of 31,281 in Placentia, 14 cities have more people and 11 fewer. Fourteen cities also have higher densities than Placentia's at 4,740 citizens for each square mile. The most crowded city is La Palma with 9,215 people a square mile and the most spread out is Irvine with 874 persons per square mile.

In Placentia, people most likely live 3.4 per housing unit, a figure smaller than the 3.9 average here and in 1960 and 1970. Only four Orange County cities now house more people in a unit and the range is from Villa Park with 4.1 to Seal Beach with 1.9.

Placentia is a healthy place to live, however, with only five Orange

Housing Costs Jump 23% In A Year

The average base sales price of new single family detached homes in Orange County is now $81,130, according to a survey just completed by the market research department of First American Title Insurance Company, Santa Ana.

This represents a whopping $15,340 or 23 per cent increase during the past year. Philip W. Kunisch, market research director for First American, said. The July report pegged the average base sales price at $65,790.

Accentuating the decline in lower cost housing, Kunisch indicated that only two of 66 subdivisions surveyed last month offered any homes for

Local Library Serves Over 32,000 Users

The Placentia Library District services 32,333 people, who live in 7,776 single family dwellings, 576 duplex to fourplex structures, 1,023 complexes with five or more families and 448 mobil homes, the district reported this week.

The average overall occupancy is 3.29 persons a dwelling.

David Snow, director of the district said that the figures include the entire district made up of the city of Placentia and a county island served by the facility.

The island had 1,052 inhabitants in 308 single family homes averaging 3.42 people each, the report concluded.

City Athletic Facilities Caught In Crunch

Providing adequate athletic facilities for Placentia's sports-minded population, has become a major problem, it was indicated here last week.

In a report, almost a year old, members of the city's Recreation and Parks Commission, petitioned for some relief from members of the city council in a special combined meeting.

Representatives from the sports public involved also were on hand to bolster pleas for more of everything for the athletically inclined in Placentia. This appears to involve a large part of the population in both adult and formative years.

Council members accepted the report with few questions, expected to come later at a regular council meeting. Also there was little talk of money except for the possible costs of lighting open fields around Kraemer Junior High School. This was estimated at $105,000 for the main field or $175,000 for the total area.

Target area for the efforts appears to be the development of a major sports complex from 14 acres of the Kraemer Junior High School fields to assist with the crunch in ground sports. It was estimated that the complex, if developed would be used by 30 to 40 per cent of the people in Placentia. Another recommendation for tennis-handball improvements is expected to reach another 15 per cent of Placentians, it was reported.

Also involved in the recommended projects are the complexities of at least some of the grounds being talked about belong to the Placentia Unified School District, a separate entity from the city and not necessarily contiguous. However, the two groups have a Civic Center agreement, which has been used advantageously in the past to combine efforts for a single purpose.

Other questions prominent at the meeting concerned how many of the participants in each group actually live in Placentia. This was made an issue by the last city council when it discovered that the city was having difficulty in providing play areas for its own citizens. In some cases athletic programs, depending entirely on volunteer labor, have been started as joint efforts of one or more cities, to get the new projects off the ground. As these become more and more successful, the programs threaten to engulf the local facilities available.

Many of the ground sports have been played at Tuffree Junior High School fields, a combined school and city facility. However, this field can no longer accommodate all the requests and is in danger of being worn out, the report stated. The field also could develop parking problems as the Tri-City Park Authority claims land that belongs to lake parking, now being used by Tuffree.

"We've retired two Tuffree baseball fields to plant new grass," Frank Freeman, newly elected vice chairman of the Recreation and Parks Commission and head of the athletic facilities committee explained. "The wrong kind of grass was planted there to begin with. Baseball fields one and two at Tuffree have been put off limits until baseball starts again."

"The grass surface is worn out, also we've been asked to stay off of McFadden for a year."

Jerry Reed, chairman of the Recreation and Parks Commission explained: "Every field in the city has been used right down to the dust."

Cul-de-sac Chosen For Alta Street

A solution to the problems of widening Chapman Avenue at the trouble area of Anned Drive and Alta Street, were quickly disposed of Tuesday night at a public hearing held by the Placentia Planning Commission.

City staff and administration board of the Placentia Calvary Church were in agreement on the cul-de-sac of Alta Street south of Chapman, at the southern border of the church property.

No one spoke in disagreement. Alternate No. 1 selected unanimously by the commission will provide a cul-de-sac at the south end of the church property, and an alley, to the west. The move will combine the two properties owned by the church and will also provide a driveway into the church's area opposite Anned Drive.

The plan selected is the least expensive of three offered Noel Torkelson, executive vice president of the Governmental Professional Services, who are planners for the Chapman Avenue widening. Cost of the plan selected is $7,150.

Concentration Camp Survivor Speaks Here

The Friends of the Placentia Library District will be hosting a reception for Mel Mermelstein at the Placentia Library on Thursday, July 29, 1976 at 7:30 p.m.

Mermelstein, whose display of Nazi concentration camps is still showing at the library, will be speaking about experiences in the camps and giving a film presentation. Refreshments will be provided by the Friends.

The display represents experiences and events in the camps from which Mermelstein was the only member of his family to escape alive.

Family Ferry-Close To Another Placentia

AND WE END UP HERE, Gene Smith says pointing to the destination of the Placentia, USA Smith family for their annual summer excursion. On a 9,000 mile journey round trip, they will be within 14 ferrying hours of Placentia, Newfoundland, Canada. Making the motoring trip are Connie Tee, a niece, daughter Jodi, Gene Smith, Marcia Smith and dog Mitty.

This year's trip the Smiths expect may include the Olympics and a lot of scenery watching, fishing, and hiking. Halifax, Nova Scotia, is on the itinerary...a long ways from home.

Mrs. Smith, the only member of the family to visit Europe, says the family would probably choose to go there "except that we can't drive over."

A CLEAR VIEW into her kitchen window is an everyday occurrence for Mrs. Daphne Erikson and for anyone else walking or driving in the public alley in back of her home on Lewis Place. Here Mrs. Erikson stands on property directly in back of her home on which a commercial structure is scheduled to be built. Her new view from the other side of the wall may now include more courses of concrete blocks on top of her wall, a redwood extension above that, a chain link fence on the property behind her home, 8 feet high to contain sacks of fertilizer, cement and other commodities. And perhaps some slats stuck to the top of that.

Walls Again Problem For Homeowners

A Mickey Mouse wall arrangement where a commercial enterprise would add on two different types of building materials to existing adjacent homeowners walls to provide privacy for them, was again in the public eye this week as more expansion was being planned for the Sierra Vista Shopping Center.

The shopping area, which contains a Pantry Market, is located at Bastanchury Road and Placentia Avenue.

Problems for homeowners on Lewis Place, whose property backs up to the market began soon after their homes were purchased.

"At that time," Mrs. Doug (Daphne) Erikson recalls, "the ground level in the center was the same as that in our rear yards." The center then consisted of the row of businesses on the east end of the development, away from the Lewis Place residences.

But in September of 1972, the Pantry Market was built and the ground under it was raised some four feet, Mrs. Erikson states. This provided an alleyway and loading docks behind the market where trucks and passersby can easily look into the Lewis homes back yards, the homeowners complained to City Council a year ago.

2,000 people," Mrs. Smith recalls. "We knew everybody in town... everybody knew everybody. We've always enjoyed Placentia."

But it's nice to see new places. Although the Smith camper might not be able to make it, the family is wistfully eyeing vacation spots over long stretches of water. Next year, if not Europe, well that 50th state, Hawaii certainly beckons.

With their back walls dwarfed, Lewis Place home owners reported at public hearings that they had lost their privacy.

"Nor did we receive any kind of notice from the city about the building. We had no opportunity to protest," Mrs. Erikson recalls. "The city staff said that notices were posted, but we did not receive them."

This apparently happened again this time. As new construction at the big shopping complex in back of the homes has been authorized, notices were again mailed out regarding a storage area in back of one building. But not to the involved homeowners. The notices were sent to homes on the north side of Bastanchury Road, across the street from the shopping center and on the opposite side of the development.

"That's the fourth time the system has broken down since I've been here," Arnold Hamala, director of community development for the city explained. He said that a title company, which has access to property records, is paid to send out notices of hearings, another lease out service at City Hall.

A Tribute In Memoriam

I first met Seth Fessenden by taking one of his classes at Cal State. He did not seem overly impressive that first semester. I like him - he was a soft spoken, distinguished old gentleman who knew his subjects well, but it took more than that to really impress me. The class itself was reasonably structured, pretty exacting, and not overly time consuming. Sort of a B+ situation.

The following semester I again found myself a student of Dr. Fessenden. This class covered a different type of material and was rather unstructured—definitely not my preference. Our first day we were divided into groups and asked to discuss a specific question—oh, brother! We used several rooms as it was an odd hour of the day. Many of the groups talked two or three minutes and left. My group was a good one; we used all the class period and did some heavy thinking. I went home and dug into the books looking for support and answers. The next period we were asked to report our conclusions. Some groups didn't have much to say; our group had plenty. Dr. Fessenden didn't criticize much, but asked some more questions and then went over a chapter of the text with us.

It was not one of his better semesters, as health problems forced several missed classes. (With characteristic consideration, he always had us notified to save us time and travel.) We did have a research paper to do. I still liked the old gent, but was disappointed in the class—too easy, too vague, too little ground covered. The research paper was a challenge, though, and I really learned a bit doing it. The semester ended and new classes beckoned. They did not again involve Dr. Fessenden.

Something happened to my attitude the following year. I discovered two things; in my classes I was better prepared to deal with the material than many of my peers, and I was still looking for answers to Dr. Fessenden's questions. I began to assess what we'd learned under the guidance of the old scholar—and was awed. It didn't seem like a tough load at the time—it really wasn't—but what a lot we had learned! He'd accomplished what many teachers who cover far more obvious territory often fail to do; he'd challenged us to really think. A lot of answers lie within ourselves, not just in some books, but how often do we seek them there? How often do we use our books seeking answers after the testing is done—simply because we want to know?

By graduation time I had come to appreciate the privilege of being Dr. Fessenden's student; how thrilling that he was the professor in charge of that commencement!

How shocking it was to cover last week's massacre and learn that he was among the victims. How could such a great man meet such a fate? Why do such senseless killings occur? How can a person destroy other lives, apparently without regard for those lives or the lives of those left behind? What can be done to prevent such tragedies? Can the answers be found in a book somewhere? Is anything being done? Will we find the answers within ourselves, or after experiencing this thing called death? In his dying, as in his teaching, the old professor has me searching for answers.

Memorial Services

A memorial ceremony for the seven university employees who perished as a result of the campus tragedy on July 12, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday, July 23 in the Engineering Building Quad.

The ceremony will include an invocation by Dr. William B. Langsdorf, president emeritus; remarks by university president Dr. L. Donald Shields; a musical interlude by the French Horn Quartet of Bruce Cameron, Robert Grishkoff, Ernest Kettenring and Kenneth Lee; a memorial tribute by Dr. Morton C. Fierman, professor of religious studies and the benediction by Dr. Langsdorf.

Classes on the campus will be dismissed for the services and offices will remain closed for the rest of the day, the campus advises.

From President Donald Shields

The campus is shocked and grieved beyond words over this senseless tragedy. We extend our sincere condolences and sympathy to the families of our employees who have expired and our prayers for our two employees who are under treatment for their wounds. May I request our university community to join me in working together in all ways possible to ease the suffering of the families and friends of our colleagues.

Bradford House Committee Sets Meeting

The first meeting of a Blue Ribbon Committee sanctioned to provide input for a decision on the future of the Bradford House, will be held at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 21 in the Conference Room at City Hall.

The committee, being organized by Councilman Donald Holt, as one of the representatives of the city council, will consist of prominent citizens who have volunteered to serve in that capacity.

Recommendations as to uses and funding for the home, which was built by Albert S. Bradford, founder of the city of Placentia, will be finalized by September 21, the council announced previously.

Walls Again A Problem

Erikson explains. Uninformed about the Pantry Market development, which according to the homeowners made life unlivable in their homes and back yards, Lewis Place residents a year ago appealed to the Placentia City Council to regain their privacy.

The solution worked out at that time was for the new owner of the shopping center to add onto the homeowners walls as high as they would go without falling over...about 7.4 feet. Since this still would not block out the view and noise of trucks and people along the elevated alleyway, it was decided to add some kind of a redwood extension above that.

"We're not quite sure what that structure will look like," Hamala, who was not with the city at that time, explained this week. "Whether it is redwood stuck up on legs or just what it is. We have not seen the plans for it."

Whatever it is, it was still nonexistent this week as the arrangement at the time of decision was to heighten the homeowners walls along with new construction in the center. This has left the problem unsolved for an additional year, the homeowners point out.

A year ago, the Lewis Place residents had petitioned that they tear down their existing walls, with the shopping center then rebuilding them with reinforcement to an eight-foot height. This solution, however, was found to be unacceptable.

In the current concern, a proposed 9,460 foot hardware store, as part of 31,000 square foot expansion at the shopping center, has petitioned for relief of building a masonry wall in back of their building, 40 feet from the Erikson back yard. Instead the applicant has requested to erect an 8-foot chain link fence, inside of which according to plans, will be stacked...possibly eight feet high...bags of fertilizer, ready mix cement, lengths of pipe and nursery plants.

When it was pointed out that all of this might be visible from the Erikson kitchen even with the block wall and redwood extension on their own back wall, it was suggested by staff that the top of the chain link fence "might be slatted," to block the view of what was inside it.

At this point city staff asked for a two-week continuance "to further study the matter." The continuation is scheduled for the next meeting of the planning commission on July 28.

Mrs. Erikson, who spoke before the planning commission Tuesday night, said she found the proposal offered "aesthetically disgusting" and is concerned about prowlers, already a problem in the neighborhood with the easy alley access.

"Outdoor storage may attract bugs, but what else is it going to attract?" Mrs. Erikson asked the commission. Once they (the prowlers) know the storage is there, there are going to be more prowlers."

Complaint of the applicant, Arrow Hardware, was that the chain link fence is required for air circulation around materials to be stored inside. No questions were asked by commissioners as to whether the open top with gates at both the east and west sides in the plan would not provide adequate air circulation.

Property owners of the shopping center pointed out a year ago that they were unaware that they were inheriting any homeowner problems when they acquired the shopping complex.

NEWLY REELECTED president of the Placentia Library District, Victor Michel, signs authorization lowering the library district's tax rate from $.3431 per $100 valuation to 33 cents, the first drop in seven years. The cut was motivated by the high assessments in Orange County this year. With Michel are board members John Koval, Irene Czaplinski and Alfred Aguirre. Kathryn McKnight, reelected secretary of the board, was out of the city.

Chairmen Reelected to Posts

Lee Van Gorden has been reelected by acclamation as chairman of the Placentia Planning Commission. Chosen as vice chairman is Dr. David Margolias. Reelected chairman of Recreation and Parks Commission is Jerry Reed. Frank Freeman was named vice chairman.

Change On Hiring Relatives

A stricter policy concerning the hiring of relatives at City Hall may go into effect if the Placentia City Council adopts proposed revisions of the city council policy manual, which covers a number of subjects.

The document, before the city council twice, has been continued both times to later meetings, probably because of the length of time required to peruse it.

The hiring of relatives provision is an implementation on present policy which now simply states: the hiring of relatives of city employees or officials shall be a matter of management discretion.

Proposed revisions include: 1. No relative of an existing full-time employee shall be appointed to a full-time position within the same immediate work unit.

2. No relative of any elected or appointed city official having city-wide policy making or administrative responsibility, shall be appointed to any full-time position.

"For purpose of this policy, a relative is defined as any person who is related by blood or marriage within the third degree.

"Other situations involving the employment of relatives which are not covered by the above "guidelines limiting appointments", shall be dealt with by decision of the appointing authority, in the best interests of the city and within the intent of the "General Policy" contained herein.

The proposal with others, is expected to be heard at the next meeting of the city council.

Housing Costs

less than $50,000. A year ago 30 of 91 tracts included in the firm's study were selling some models under $50,000.

The big jump in prices reflects soaring land, labor and materials costs, Kunisch pointed out.

At the same time, the inventory of available new single family detached dwellings has declined drastically. Only 61 homes were on the market in the recent survey, compared with 810 available in mid-1975.

Homes built or under construction and for sale totaled 2,012 in June 1975, down to 908 in the June 1976 study.

Despite rising prices, the average weekly sales rate climbed from 2.1 to 2.4 homes during the past year.

First American Title prepares various types of market research reports as planning aids for builders, lenders, Realtors and others, Kunisch said. Orange County's oldest title insurer, the firm now has more than 350 issuing offices throughout the United States and in Guam.

Athletic Facilities

Partially creating the big crunch is the popularity of soccer in the community, a fairly new project which experienced a 300 per cent growth after the first year, then another 100 per cent boost.

It is now at 60 teams and expects to grow within the next two years to 120 teams. It is competing with football and both groups have high registrations, with seasons scheduled to start on local fields early in August.

Dick Samp, director of the city's Recreation and Maintenance Services Department explained that soccer, which does not require a particular height, such as basketball or certain body builds of football is becoming a universal sport with an appeal to a wide crosssection of youth.

Also burgeoning in the city is Little League baseball, which has become so large it has now been divided into two leagues. Football is organized into three different groups.

Also looking for a place to perform are adult sports, basketball, tennis, swimming and a variety of other sports enterprises. Bob-Etts girls softball, was the only woman's sport included.

Representatives of the Swim Team of Placentia at the Tuesday night meeting received discouraging news from Samp who recommended that they use facilities in other cities, or for their members, who in many cases have been distinguishing themselves in county swim meets, to join other out of city swim teams. The suggestion was not well received.

A request for an official competitive 50-meter swimming pool was given the lowest priority in the commission's report, it was explained, because of the cost, the space required and the number of people who could use it at one time.

"What did the Olympic sized pool in Fullerton cost?" Councilman Jack Gomez inquired.

"Around a million dollars for the entire development, park and all," Samp answered.

The city owns swimming pools only in south Placentia.

Also encountering problems are tennis buffs of all ages, who are finding tennis courts in short supply. Most of the tennis courts are school owned with only those at Tuffree Park under city mandate. Pay nets have been installed at the latter to hasten players departure from the courts.

Samp reported there have been complaints from youngsters that adults have pressured them from the playing spaces on the courts so the adults could play.

With Tuffree Fields engulfed, the athletic facilities committee's top recommendation is for the major sports complex at Kraemer. This would require permission from PUSD which owns the land and an expenditure of funds by one or both entities.

Involved could be lighting costs, a parking lot in the general area of Anned Drive and Bradford Avenue and complete sprinklering and restructuring of the fields, which currently are on an incline and need to be reworked, committee members pointed out. Youth teams also consider a Snack Shack essential as "the life blood" for financing the volunteer programs. Storage areas also would be required.

The new center would be used for both playing fields and practice fields with several different teams bunching up for practices.

In answer to the soccer teams, Samp responded: "You would have to tear down all the houses in the city to get what you're talking about. You must schedule by double uses or four or five teams to a facility. It's not what every coach wants, but there is no way to do it. You'll have to use elementary schools. You'll have to split the facility up."

Mrs. Elizabeth Peltzer, 100 Dies Quietly in Sleep

An era passed quietly in Placentia Tuesday afternoon, with the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Peltzer at the age of 100 years, four months and 14 days.

Mrs. Peltzer, who has been in failing health in recent months, did not wake from her afternoon nap, her daughter Olga said this week.

Mrs. Peltzer was the subject of a Placentia Courier feature story on the occasion of her recent 100 birthday celebration. At that time 81 members of her family traveled, some from long distances, to help her commemorate the century mark of her life.

Mrs. Peltzer's husband Charles brought her to California for her health in 1913 and here they raised nine sons and daughters on their citrus ranch. The property later became a part of Disneyland. Another property they owned is the Robinson-Broadway Department Store Shopping Center on Euclid Avenue in Anaheim.

Mrs. Peltzer, a native of New Ulm, Minnesota, is survived by daughters Olga of the home in Placentia, Mrs. Eugene (Blanche) Fitzgerald of Ivanhoe and Mrs. Vincent (Charlotte) Eischen of Hemet; two sons, Roland of Visalia and Victor of Yorba Linda; 20 grandchildren; 55 great grandchildren and one great, great grandson. Her husband Charles died in 1958 at the age of 82.

Vigil services were held Thursday evening for Mrs. Peltzer and Requiem Mass Friday morning at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Placentia. Burial was in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery, Orange. Sixty-five members of the family from all parts of California and Guadalajara, Mexico attended the services.

Before her death, on the occasion of her 100th birthday party, the great, great grandmother received special congratulations from the White House from President and Mrs. Gerald Ford.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks to Doctor, Staff

Letter to the Editor from Placentia/Yorba Linda Jr. All American Football

Dear Sir:

Our organization was recently in a very perplexing situation. We had approximately 300 boys that had to go through physical examinations as part of their qualifications to play JAA youth football.

The problem was because of recent military changes in policy and situations, our usual source of medical physicians and staff from the Fort McArthur Army base were unable to donate their time and services.

Our dilemma came to an abrupt end when the kind and civic minded Dr. Donald Krpan of the Esperanza Hospital Staff donated his valuable time and staff, with the help of Drs. Floyd Wilbur, Dick Strand, Beachley Main and Keith Wintle.

Dr. Krpan's most able staff consists of Alberta Smith, Debbie Welch and Travee Brzycki. Sharon Vinsonhaler was also helping.

Two hundred and seventy four boys went through a most thorough and complete examination.

We would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank this man and his staff for a most valuable contribution to our organization. Without people like Dr. Krpan, volunteer organizations like ours would suffer badly. Again hats off and many thanks to Dr. Donald Krpan.

Placentia Profile

County cities with higher birth rates (15.3 births per 1,000 population) and six cities with lower death rates (Placentia's 3.8 per 1,000 population.) Birth rates are highest in Santa Ana, (23.7) and lowest in Seal Beach (4.8). Deaths are highest in Seal Beach (14.6) and lowest in Villa Park (2.1).

Only four cities are higher than Placentia in the natural increase of population, the difference between births and deaths. Placentia at 11.6 is topped by the 17.1 per cent in Santa Ana. The city lowest in natural increase is Seal Beach with a minus 9.8 per cent per 1,000.

Seventeen cities have more housing units than Placentia with 9,515. Tops is Anaheim with 73,836 dwellings. Lowest in the county is Villa Park with 1,711.

Placentia's voter registration practically parallels its population. With 12,633 registered voters, 15 Orange County cities have more, ranging from the 77,014 voters in Anaheim to the 3,053 in Villa Park. Placentia is 50.40 per cent Republican and 43.20 Democrat with almost 6 per cent declining to state.

The city's vacancy rate of 4.60 per cent is topped by seven cities with the highest vacancies in San Clemente at 15.03 per cent and the lowest 1.90 per cent in Cypress.

However, Placentia, by name, is the only Orange County city that can claim it is the pleasant place to live!

A third plan would realign Alta Street with Anned Drive with a price tag of $11,800.

In a letter the Calvary Church advised that it considered the first plan the most advantageous for the congregation and the community.

The proposal adopted will cut off homes further south on Alta Street from direct access to Chapman Avenue as well as the Bradford Brothers Packing House. There were no objections from the occupants.

TEAM DOCTORS

Contracts have been approved for team doctors for the three high schools of the Placentia Unified School District. Serving El Dorado High School will be Dr. Maurice S. Nadridge; Esperanza, Dr. R. Scott

It was estimated in the proposal that the move would place additional traffic on Center Street, up to 1,800 vehicles a day, which was deemed capable of handling it. Present traffic on the street is 670 vehicles a day. The increase in traffic would be caused by possible future development of apartments in the area.

In the plan adopted, Alta Street north of the newly proposed cul-de-sac would be filled in and converted to church property. The general widening plans for Chapman Avenue will remove the north section of both properties owned by the church including the northernmost wing of the structure.

The staff report indicated that Orange County funds will be available for half of the cost of the cul-de-sac.

Hall and Valencia, Dr. Norman C. Myers. Payment is $75 to each doctor per game for the football season.

Open House

Ceramics, macrame and stitchery were among the crafts projects which were on display at an open house at Sierra Vista Elementary School in Placentia Tuesday.

Work by more than 150 fourth, fifth and sixth graders were exhibited, explained Evelyn Swanson, Sierra Vista's summer principal.

Students at the school spend a period each day working in arts and crafts with teacher Laura Brough.

Summer camp registration is now taking place at the Central Orange County Y.W.C.A. Girls from grades 5-12 will spend seven fulfilled days from August 14-21 at Camp Osceola high in the San Bernardino Mountains. The Y.W.C.A. summer program consists of a wide range of recreational activities and a balanced program of fun, hiking, boating, fishing, outcamping, horseback riding, and sports tournaments.

Registration for the week of summer camp at Camp Osceola is now taking place at the Central Orange County Y.W.C.A. 146

Grand St., Orange. Interested girls can earn their way to camp by selling candy.

Parking Revision Approved

Without input from the public for or against, members of the Placentia Planning Commission Tuesday unanimously approved dropping requirements for parking at medical-dental facilities from 8 parking places per thousand gross square feet of building area to 6.5 per thousand gross square feet.

The action, stated by Arnold Hamala, director of community development for Placentia is in concept only and outlines a possible adjustment in special cases where a medical building has an excessive amount of non-parking generating use.

Such space would be corridors, elevators, foyers, and similar space.

Commission chairman Lee Van Gorden, seeking a legal opinion asked: "Do you think we're opening a loophole?" Hamala answered that flexibility to some is a loophole to another.

Reason for the decrease in parking requirements was based on a survey of other Orange County cities and a field check locally at peak hours for doctors of 11 a.m. and between 3 to 5 p.m., Hamala stated.

Horse Tales

By Joan Johnson

Here we go with the ninth article of the series on Horsemanship written by Charis Nagel. This week she deals with the "Canter".

"The canter, or lope, is a collected, three beat gait. It should be ridden with your seat deep in the saddle and your body inclined slightly forward from your hips to remain in balance with the forward motion. Relaxed hands are very important at this gait to allow rhythm with the movement of the horse's head.

"Cueing for a lope is done by collecting your horse, shifting your weight back to the horse's outside hind leg, and applying sufficient pressure with your outside leg to instruct the horse to strike out in the proper lead.

"Train your horse to canter from a walk with a smooth fluid change of gait. In the beginning, however, for the novice rider and horse, work on urging your horse from a trot into a canter.

"This will make it easier for you to stay in balance and rhythm as the change occurs and you can concentrate on cueing and proper training.

"A canter is not a fast gait. The horse is working off its hindquarters, light in the forequarters, with a rhythm in its action that makes this gait a pleasure to ride if you are in balance.

"Keep your body weight over your feet with slight pressure on each stirrup to help keep your balance and to allow your ankles to flex in order to absorb some of the weight.

"Your heels should be down, with your toes turned at a natural angle, and your lower legs should maintain a contact with your horse's body."

Help! You hear this cry when you're at a lake or beach resort. It's a remote area, there's no one else to turn to and you don't swim. Time won't permit you to go for assistance and there are no life preservers anywhere. What do you do?

Many drownings could be prevented if more people realized that a life preserver doesn't have to look like one. Anything that floats might be able to support a person in the water. An oar, a beach ball, a tightly covered ice chest or large vacuum jug might serve in an emergency.

Don't let tragedy spoil your vacation. Plan ahead and be prepared for emergencies. If illness strikes, see your doctor and depend on us to fill any prescription, promptly and precisely.

HANDY HINT: To keep moths out of clothes closets, wipe the closet floor occasionally with a cloth dampened with turpentine.

KATIE'S COLUMN OF DOWN ON THE FARM by Kay Starr

In a weak moment, I agreed to go out to Romoland to give a demonstration on pruning Monterey pine for Christmas trees. Directions from the grower, plus a couple of good maps, still didn't help me get over the feeling that I was about to go to the other side of the world.

Actually, it didn't take more than just over an hour to get there, but even at that early hour, the heat was intense. During the "show and tell" hour, I made the mistake of putting my extra shears on the ground.

It's a good thing that I reached with my gloved hand to pick them up, otherwise I would have suffered first degree burns. When the grower said let's go up to the house for a cool drink, I beat him to the door.

He mixes a pretty good drink - grapefruit juice and apple juice. I had never tried the two together, but it is really a good thirst quencher. I managed to gulp two tall glasses before I came up for air.

The trip also gave me an indication of how the new "old" station wagon is going to behave on our trip east. I took it up through some mountain roads and it handled like a racer.

Because of the heat I was concerned that it might overheat, but it kept cooler than I did. A nice breeze at Idyllwild held the temperature down some, but it was still plenty hot. Coming back through Hemet the reading was 105 degrees.

There is a lot of agriculture going on in and around Hemet. With water available for irrigation, there will probably be more and more agriculture taking place. There certainly is an increase in the number of Christmas tree farms being developed.

A few years ago, it would have been foolhardy to grow trees out there because there would have been no market, but now, the people are moving out that way by the droves. A large number of the homes are the mobile style, but beautiful inside and outside.

The more I talk to people who have been east, the less I am sure that I want to make this trip. Even my cousin who has been back for a year and just returned to California wasn't very encouraging.

He didn't even bother to visit the lake where our families spent our summers, preferring to remember the lake as it has been. It really can't be much worse than what the housing developments have done to California in the past 20 years. Besides its people as well as places I want to see.

Seniors Make Change In Tour Director

The Senior Citizens Club of Placentia has formally adopted new by-laws for the club. Mrs. Suzanne Miller, president revealed this week.

Among changes at the club has been the resignation of Ione Aldrich, Yorba Linda, as tour director. She has been replaced by Patricia Rickard, tour director and Faye Page as assistant. Mrs. Rickard also is president of the Welcome Wagon and arranges tours for the Gadabouts.

Traveling activities within the club are now functioning under the title of Placentia Senior Citizens Tours, Mrs. Miller stated, and are under the sponsorship of the entire club.

Originally scheduled for June the show was rescheduled to allow additional corps to take part in the festivities. Hosted by the Squires, the show includes the Velvet

"A Thousand Clowns"

PLACENTIANS Jack Wellington and son Brad clown it up, rehearsing their roles for "A Thousand Clowns" now in production at the Muckenthaler Cultural Center's Cabaret Theater. The show continues through August 1. Wellington plays the leading role of Murray Burns in the play and son Brad plays his nephew Nick. It is the second time father and son have appeared together in a dramatic presentation. [Photo by Charles Redmon, Jr.]

"A Thousand Clowns," Herb Gardner's sunny and wistful play about a nonconformist uncle trying to rear his precocious young nephew, with Jack Wellington, Placentia, in the lead, will be presented July 20 through August 1 at the Muckenthaler Cultural Center, 1201 W. Malvern (at Euclid) in Fullerton. Produced by the semi-professional Cabaret Summer Ten Theatre Company, the Gardner comedy is being staged in the Company's red-and-white circus tent located on the Cultural Center grounds.

A single admission price includes an evening's entertainment in the tent and an old-fashioned box supper served in the Center's gardens.

Further information is available from the Cabaret Theatre Box Office, at 879-6865.

The principal theme of the play is the effort of Murray Burns, a writer, to hold fast to his abiding aim—to relish every moment of life on earth. This means, of course, fighting against the tyranny of a job he detests—doing scripts for a man who is Chuckles the Chipmunk on television. Conflicts abound when two representatives from the New York Child Welfare Board enter Murray's cluttered, one-room apartment to take action against him for the unorthodox manner in which he is rearing his near-genius nephew.

Jack Wellington of Placentia will be featured as the nonconformist Murray who, without inhibition, laughingly commits such good-natured pranks as appealing to his neighbors from an open window to improve the caliber of their garbage. Wellington first appeared with the Cabaret Theatre in its first production, Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit," and played leading roles in California State University, Fullerton productions of "Life With Father" and "The Skin Of Our Teeth." He recently was featured in the Cabaret Theatre Company's revival production of "Plaza Suite," which opened the tent theatre season.

Wellington's son Brad is cast in the role of Murray's worldwide twelve year-old nephew Nick who is humorously consistent in his efforts to coax his uncle into finding a job. Brad made his stage debut in 1975 at CSUF where he appeared with Wellington and younger brother Jack Jr. in "Life With Father." Performances begin at 8:30 p.m. with dinner from 6:45 p.m. Sunday showings start at 7:30 p.m. with dinner from 5:45 p.m. The all-inclusive dinner-show package is $6.50.

YMCA Plans Dad-Daughter Program

For many years in North Orange County cities the YMCA has provided parent-child programs which foster companionship between Father-Son and Mother-Daughter. This fall, because of many requests, the YMCA will initiate a Father-Daughter program.

This new program will be for fathers and their daughters who are in the first through fourth grades. It will be called "Indian Princesses."

The purposes and scope will be much the same as the already existing Indian Guides, Warriors, Maidens and Kachinas.

The program, of course, is based on Indian lore, which adds excitement for the youngsters. It is a home-centered club sponsored by the Y in which fathers and daughters participate together as a tribe.

Tribes are formed of from six to nine fathers and their daughters. All of the tribes (up to 20) in a certain area comprise an Indian Nation.

The tribes and the nation meet on a regular basis, participate in various activities and organize Fall, Winter and Spring camps.

In general, the Indian Princesses provide a chance to multiply the number of things that fathers and daughters can do together at an age when children need individual time with their favorite people, their parents.

The cost to join is $10 per participant and includes a YMCA community membership. The YMCA is now in the process of organizing this exciting new program for North Orange County cities. But the help of all who are interested is needed. This is why.

First, the YMCA needs to know approximately how many participants they should expect. Only in this way can the YMCA plan effectively. Therefore the YMCA is asking all interested persons to immediately call the Yorba Linda YMCA office at 993-5111 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

Your name will be placed on a list to receive further information. This is not registration. Registration will take place in September. The Yorba Linda office is handling Indian Princesses for all North Orange County cities.

Second, a new family program such as this requires leaders who are willing to help in the organizing stages.

HONORED—Yorba Linda resident Larry Carlo was recently certified a Chartered Industrial Gas Consultant by the American Gas Association and Institute of Gas Technology. The energy systems engineer for Southern California Gas Co. earned the recognition for completing a three year training program on efficient and economical use of gas.

Just moved in? I can help you out.

Don't worry and wonder about learning your way around town. Or what to see and do. Or whom to ask. As your WELCOME WAGON Hostess, I can simplify the business of getting settled. Help you begin to enjoy your new town... good shopping, local attractions, community opportunities. And my basket is full of useful gifts to please your family. Take a break from unpacking and call me.

New Perpetual Account

The opportunity to defer state and federal taxes on interest and dividend income has become available to savers at Perpetual Savings and Loan Association through an investment annuity account underwritten by American Guaranty Life Insurance Co.

A policy for long-range financial planning, the account permits the owner to transfer present savings and other assets from a broad accepted asset list into the investment annuity account and to defer both state and federal income taxes until the day the benefits are received.

Investment annuity account holders maintain control of how and where their money is invested. They also have the right to direct the choice of investments or change of investments, both before and during retirement.

With a minimum of $10,000 in savings and other assets, the account holder can guarantee himself a lifetime income and avoid the costs, delays and publicity of probate.

For more information on the investment annuity policy, contact your local Perpetual Savings office. The Fullerton office is located at 3334 Yorba Linda Boulevard, 993-1200.

JILL SHINKLE, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Gary Shinkle, Yorba Linda, recently returned from attending the Pan American Junior Olympics in Mexico City. The trip was sponsored by Mt. San Antonio College and the A.A.U. Jill, who competed in high jump and long jump, will be a junior at Troy High School this fall. She is a member of the Blue Angels women's track and field club of Fountain Valley. The American team, composed of 19 boys and girls from the Western United States visited Matzatan and Guadalajara en route to Mexico City. Nine other countries from North, Central and South America participated in the track and field meet held July 9th-11th in the Mexico City Olympic stadium.

New Coaches At Valencia

New coaches for basketball and swimming/water polo were hired this week at Valencia High School in Placentia.

Ray Rodriguez, who led his varsity team from St. John Bosco in Bellflower into CIF 4-A playoffs this year, will head Valencia's basketball coaching staff. The new coach for the Tiger swimming and water polo teams is Tom Grimm, formerly at Western High in Anaheim.

Rodriguez' Bosco team won the Del Rey League championship last year with a 20-4 record, winning him the title of Coach of the Year in the league. During his four years of varsity coaching at Bosco, Rodriguez piled up a 62-36 record and three tournament championships. One of his players, Don Carfino, was named to the All-CIF team for the past two years. In addition to coaching basketball, Rodriguez was assistant varsity coach in baseball. He coached jayvee basketball for three years before assuming the head coaching post.

Rodriguez holds his B.A. degree in physical education and history from California State University, Long Beach, and his A.A. degree from Cerritos College. He will teach drivers' education, in addition to his coaching duties at Valencia.

He and his wife Janis live in Cerritos with their daughter Erin, 2.

Grimm has been at Western High for the past six years. While he was there, he coached the AAU-sponsored Western Aquatic Club.

He holds his B.A. degree in physical education from CSULB and will teach history and social science along with his coaching duties.

Counseling Program

A second session on "Understanding Children" will be presented to interested parents at the Gomez Community Center, 1701 Atwood Avenue, Placentia.

Gary Lane, Family Education Director for Alpha Center, will present the class on Friday, July 23 at 10 a.m. The class content includes learning how to listen to children, understanding children, and ways to alter child behavior. There is no charge for this program.

Alpha Center, under the direction of Fred Reyes, is a Placentia counseling agency which provides individual, group and family counseling. The center is located at 120 S. Bradford Avenue and is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Further information may be obtained by calling Alpha Center at 993-4400 or the Placentia Office of Social Services at 993-8178.

Sally John, Tamara to Face Dad

Sally John, wife of Dodger pitcher Tommy John, and their 22 month old daughter, Tamara, residents of Yorba Linda, will participate in the annual game between the team players and their wives and children.

The game, at 6:30 p.m. on Friday, July 23, will precede the game between the Dodgers and San Diego Padres.

Mrs. John has given much credit to the birth of Tamara for her husband's miraculous comeback from a severe arm injury which it was feared had ended his pitching career. The arrival of the child gave John the determination to bounce back from a rare operation.

Local Swimmers to Face Dad

Swim Team of Placentia was represented at two recent swim meets.

Two 12 year old girls swam in a Senior Meet at the new 50 meter Fullerton pool and came home placing in their events. Jill Ward took fifth place in the 100 meter breast with a time of 1:22.2 and Nancy Sadlak ninth place with 1:24.2. Jill also was tenth in the 200 meter breast with 2:59.2.

Individuals placing at the Saddleback Valley Orange County Swim Conference Invitational in Mission Viejo were: Steve Roberts, 5 and 6, third place 100 yard individual medley 2:04.9; fourth 50 yard free 45.3; sixth 25 yard free 27.6. Renata Kendall, 5 and 6, fourth 25 yard fly 23.2; fifth 25 yd. free 20.4; seventh 27 yd. breast 31.2.

Craig Tillma, 7 and 8, fifth 50 yd. free 35.2 and eighth 25 yd. free 16.0. Mike Tillman, 7 and 8, eighth 100 yd. free 1:24.0. The 8 and under free relay placed third with the team of Renata Kendall, Ann Duncan, Jeff Bailey, and Craig Tillman with a 1:12.2.

Airman Farally Promoted In Air Force

Charles R. Farally, son of retired Army Master Sergeant and Mrs. James C. Farally of 1018 Magnolia St., Placentia, has been promoted to senior airman in the U.S. Air Force.

Airman Farally, a missile systems analysis specialist at Mather AFB, Calif., is assigned to a unit of the Strategic Air Command.

The airman is a 1974 graduate of Valencia High School.

MAKE EVERY KILOWATT COUNT.

Edison has over 80 conservation tips. Here are a few.

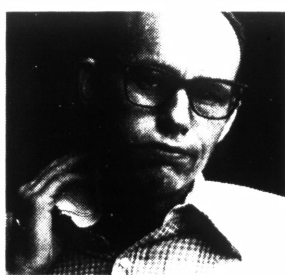

REDUCE YOUR COST OF COOLING.

Here are 6 ways to do it.

1. Keep temperature at 78° or higher. The less difference there is between inside and outside temperatures, the lower the air conditioning cost. If you have a room air conditioner, use a thermometer to see that the room temperature drops no lower than 78°. Remember: air conditioning is not to make you cold—just comfortable.

2. Insulate your attic. If your attic isn't properly insulated, you could be using too much energy for air conditioning. (Too much energy to heat your home, too.) For information, see your local insulation contractor.

3. Air condition only rooms in use. If you have a room unit, keep all doors closed to the room you're cooling. When the children (or family pet) go outside, don't forget to close the door. Keep the windows closed, too. And draw your draperies and blinds. Outside awnings or other sun screens will also reduce your cooling needs.

4. Consider an automatic timer. Timer attachments are available that will turn off your room air conditioner when you are away from home and turn it on before you return.

5. Keep equipment clean. Clean accessible parts, but be careful not to damage them. Check filters every month and clean or replace as needed.

6. Investigate an energy-saving unit. If you're in the market for a room air conditioner, compare the Energy Efficiency Ratio rating. The higher the efficiency, the more cooling you get from the electricity you use.

Save on R-19 ceiling insulation now. Cut back on the gas you use for heating and cooling forever.

Do it yourself—it only takes a day.

Do-it-yourself ceiling insulation gives you double savings. You save on the cost of installation, you save on the amount of gas you use for heating.

Check your attic or crawl space. Even if there's some insulation there, you probably need more to meet current FHA R-19 standards for energy conservation. (R-19 is simply a measure of the insulation material's ability to prevent winter heat loss and summer heat gain. All manufacturers label their insulation materials with R-values.)

You'll find installing R-19 ceiling insulation is surprisingly easy—our free booklet tells you exactly how. It only takes a few hours to complete the job, but your savings go on forever.

Pancakes for Breakfast Bargains for Lunch

The second annual Flea Market, sponsored by the Mariners of the Placentia Presbyterian Church, will be held on Saturday July 24 at the church between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Traditionally, the sale will commence with a pancake breakfast to be served from 8 a.m. to 12 noon for the early shoppers. Ticket prices for the breakfast will be 75 cents for children and $1.50 for adults. For the later shoppers, hot dogs and home baked goodies will be available for purchase.

Among the bargains galore will be quality clothing for all ages, shoes, crafts, toys, books, stationery, household items, and many more. Highlighting the event will be an old-fashioned auction to be held at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

For those persons wishing to contribute toward the success of the Flea Market by donating old newspapers, magazines, and aluminum cans, a truck will be conveniently located in the church parking lot for this purpose.

The church is located at 849 N. Bradford Ave.

THANKS

Many thanks to Phil Mitchell (who will wed Belinda Scott on September 4) for several volunteer days of reworking our sprinkling system. New lines were installed on the west side to water the day nursery area. In all, at least a dozen sprinklers are now operating again....Placentia Presbyterian News

Family Film At Church

"Time To Run," a film that is a mixture of problems and solutions, will be shown at St. Stephen's Lutheran Church at 2311 E. Chapman Avenue on Sunday, July 25th. The feature, filmed in Eastmancolor by World Wide Pictures, will be shown once beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Filed on location in the Southern California area, "Time To Run" stars Ed Nelson, Randall Carver, Barbara Sigel, John Winmill and Gordon Riggsby. Nelson plays Warren Cole, a hard driving success-oriented industrial and scientific engineer who, because of over-involvement with his work, has failed to communicate with his wife, Fran, played by Joan Winmill, or their son Jeff, played by screen newcomer Randall Carver.

Trip To Bowl Open To Public Guests

Friends of the Library, Placentia, sponsoring an evening at the Hollywood Bowl on August 7, said today that trip space is available to the public.

The group will be hearing Verdi's Requiem, directed by Robert Shaw and accompanied by a 200 voice National Workshop Choral Choir.

Concert and bus fee is $8.50 and concert-goers are invited to take a picnic lunch. The bus will be leaving Placentia Library at 6 p.m. on Saturday, August 11 and returning immediately following the performance.

Reservations and further information may be had by calling 524-6885 or 528-6198.

Viewed on the emotional level, "Time To Run" is the deeply moving drama of the conflicts that are tearing a family apart; conflicts that develop between husband and wife, and between father and son.

In an attempt to find freedom from the ever-growing hostilities, Jeff takes to the road hoping to discover some meaning in his confused life.

Approached from a religious perspective, "Time To Run" is also a story of friction between Jeff and his girlfriend, Michelle, played by Barbara Sigel, who is a familiar face to television viewers.

"Time To Run" is a film that can help strengthen love relationships between people.

Barbie Rost on Store Council

Barbie Rost of Yorba Linda, a Troy High student, has been selected to serve as a member of the Broadway Orange Department store's Youth Council for 1976-77.

Over 300 young women and men were appointed to the council on the basis of their enthusiasm, academic standing, participation in extra-curricular activities, leadership, community awareness and interest in retailing and fashion.

The students will enter several fashion workshops during the summer that will offer instruction in fashion trends, grooming, sales and modeling.

They will then work in the youth-related departments of their respective stores for two weeks and participate in various back to school fashion shows.

At special meetings in individual stores, the new council members will meet store management to discuss store operations, effective salesmanship, visual presentation and display.

They will also tour the store for a discussion of department layout and merchandising emphasis.

After the beginning of school, all councils will gather in their respective regions for a general meeting and seminars.

Riehm To Enter Naval Academy

Brian Riehm, Placentia is from one state enter the one of 42 men and one woman, all nominees of California Senator John V. Tunney, who will enroll this month at West Point, Annapolis and the Merchant Marine Academy. Riehm will enter the U.S. Naval Academy. "It is unusual to have so many qualified students from one state enter the national service academies at the same time," the Senator said. The Senator was allowed such a large number of appointments because of extra vacancies at the academies and because of the outstanding academic and leadership qualifications of his nominations.

SOCIETY

MEALS ON WHEELS--The program which provides meals for housebound senior citizens in the Yorba Linda and Placentia area was recently aided when Dorothy Wellingsford, left, was presented with a check by Katherine Citizen on behalf of the Yorba Linda-Placentia Soroptimist Club.

Trio Opens ClothesShop

The Clothes Parade in the Stonewood Shopping Center at 909 East Yorba Linda Boulevard in Placentia, has the undivided attention of three clothes-conscious ladies who are quite capable of modeling the clothes they sell.

The shop is the property of three area residents--Pat Russak, a 20-year-resident of California, living the last eight years in the Glenbrook area of Brea. She formerly had beauty supply stores in La Habra, Fullerton and Eugene, Oregon.

Also Donna Venanzi, a 15-year-resident of California, a Placentia citizen for 12 years along with husband Ed and their daughters Lisa, Sherri and Deanna.

The third is Minnie Snyder, whose nickname is Skinny Minnie, a five year resident of Placentia.

"Peggy's Pointers"
More news about us -- we welcome Mrs. Kathy Schwendemann to our staff!

Kathy is a most highly credentialed designer, as well as being a delightful person. She's a graduate of Willamette University with a degree in Studio Art and Art History, and has worked for a number of leading Southern California design firms.

Kathy has done extensive work in model homes, as well as having a great deal of experience in residential and commercial work. For those of you who attended our classes, you heard Kathy's presentation on accessories, which was most informative and entertaining.

So, now, between Shelle, Martha, Kathy and myself, we hope to be able to assist you with all your home furnishing and decorating needs in the best possible way.

Selections On Horses At Libraries

Reading selections on the subject of horses from libraries in the Santiago Library System have been compiled in a booklet titled "Horsing Around Orange County."

The resource material is available at both the Placentia and Yorba Linda libraries and contains selections from both district facilities.

Selections from the other libraries listed also can be obtained upon request at a local outlet.

BICENTENNIAL LUNCH

Members of the Placentia Senior Citizens Club will celebrate the county's Bicentennial year with a

Luau for Delta Alpha

Preceptor Delta Alpha will entertain members of Xi Iota Phi chapter of Beta Sigma Phi with a luau in the Buena Park home of Mrs. James Stone on July 25th. Mrs. Stone is chairman of the event and assisting her will be Mrs. William Cleland of Yorba Linda and Jean Fulton, Fullerton.

An authentic Hawaiian menu consisting of roast pig, sweet and sour barbecued ribs, Honolulu shrimp, baked banana casserole and fresh sliced pineapple will be served the guests of honor and their husbands.

Highlighting the evening will be Island dancing performed by several students of the La Habra dance studio. The event is being held in conjunction with the co-ordinating committee program of North Orange County Council in an effort to enlarge the circle of friendship among Beta Sigma Phi's.

Gene Hobday Promoted

The Board of Directors, Ray L. Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, announce the appointment of Gene W. Hobday from executive vice president to president of Valencia Bank. Hobday was one of the original proponents of Valencia Bank and also serves as a bank director. Ray Smith stated, "This appointment marked a planned organizational change within the management structure of Valencia Bank". The original branch of the bank is in Placentia.

Hobday, received his B.S. and M.B.A. degrees from the University of Arizona, and is a graduate of the Bank Marketing School, Northwestern University and the Pacific Coast Banking School, University of Washington. He is also a member of Robert Morris Associates and a former director of the Bank Marketing Association. Prior to the formation of Valencia Bank, Gene W. Hobday was vice president and manager of the Southern California Regional Head Office of a state-wide bank, formerly The Independent Bank.

Biologists have discovered that the social status of a wolf can be determined by the way it carries its tail. The pack leader carries his tail high in the air, while a subordinate wolf will carry its tail low or even between its legs.

"THE LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE" [set in the 1960s], Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Porter [John Traub and Sindy Vaughan], school board head and his wife, threaten to fire the teacher [Caroline Woerner] because she disciplined their daughter. The entire class protests in the "strike" scene.

"AN APPLE FOR THE TEACHER" [set in 1910], Alisha Peabody [Marie Montgomery] draws the disgust of the class as she tries to win the teacher's [Patricia Reading] favor with an apple.

Two Plays At Tuffree

Two short subject plays will be presented by the Tuffree drama class at Tuffree Junior High School Thursday and Friday.

The plays, "The Little Red Schoolhouse" and "An Apple For The Teacher" will be open to the public with a curtain time of 7 p.m.

The plays will be given in the school's Multipurpose Room.

Admission charge is 50 cents for students; $1 for adults and $1.50 for reserved seats.

There will be a 15-minute intermission between the two plays, the class advises.

Athletic Facility Needs

Recommendations by the Athletic Facilities Committee of the Placentia Recreation and Parks Commission include:

BASEBALL—SOFTBALL

1. Adding two junior size fields with 60-foot basepaths and not less than 200 feet outfield fence distance. These fields should be properly lit with sufficient dugout space, sufficient spectator seating and fenced in so that admission, if necessary can be charged.

2. Adding one senior size field with 90-foot basepaths and not less than 300 feet outfield fence distance. It should also be lit, have a good dugout, adequate seating availability to handle tournament crowds and also be fenced in.

3. All three fields be located on the one site so that adequate snack facilities can be provided from a snack bar located within a general reasonable distance from the fields. Top quality infield surfaces and CIF approved backstops should also be used.

4. Erection of simple scoreboards for each field.

5. Construction of at least four junior size practice infields to permit realistic infield, base running and pitching practice sessions without conflicting with or using game fields. These could be located at Golden School II, where three fields now partially exist and the proposed John O. Tynes School.

FOOTBALL

1. Add two 120-yard football fields each 53 1/2 yards wide, 160 feet, properly marked off with five yard interval stripes, sidelines, inbound lines and end lines as required by CIF rules. Goal posts, player benches and spectator seating also is recommended.

2. A scoreboard for each field.

3. A snack facility should be available within reasonable distance to both fields.

4. At least four additional fields for practice should be made available. A 53 by 55 yard field would be sufficient for a team. Minimum lighting will be required since practice in the fall will be after dark.

SOCCER

1. Improve the McFadden Gymnasium floor (resurfacing) and improve lighting.

2. Attempt to negotiate for use of the Boys Club and Mormon Church facilities.

3. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

4. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

5. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

6. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

7. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

8. Add a scoreboard to the McFadden Gym.

1. Football fields under lights could be shared with soccer programs under a share plan. No additional facilities needed.

TENNIS

1. Add lights to remaining ten unlit courts as soon as possible.

2. Upgrade lights at Valencia High School as soon as possible.

3. Add lights to handball courts at Valencia and El Dorado High Schools, enabling single tennis players to practice there instead of using courts. This will also extend usage of courts for handball players.

4. By resurfacing and repairing Valencia courts, tournaments can be played there now limited to El Dorado and Tuffree Park. This will open free space to nontournament players and should be done as soon as possible.

5. Investigate alternate means of limiting court use to Placentia residents, a reservations system, dropnets, lock gates and others.

6. Study the need to add an additional court when the city's population reaches 36,000 and an additional court for each population increase of 2,000 persons over 36,000.

7. Investigate possibility of setting up a private foundation to be known as "Placentia Friends of Tennis" who would build courts.

8. Costs incurred in the improvement of facilities at El Dorado and Valencia High Schools should be shared with the Placentia Unified School District to an extent found agreeable between the city and PUSD.

9. No change in existing swim facilities now.

10. At a later date, when population reaches over 40,000 persons, a study may show the need for additional pools and that a 50 meter by 25 yard size pool be considered.

11. Improve the McFadden Gymnasium floor (resurfacing) and improve lighting.

SPORTS

Placentia Night July 31

The most popular special event of recent seasons -- Jacket Night -- will serve as a finishing touch to the Angels' next homestand at Anaheim Stadium.

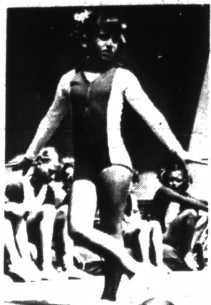

The Chicago White Sox will provide the opposition on Saturday, July 31 when youngsters 14 years and under will receive colorful and practical vinyl warmup jackets, compliments of the Angels. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The night is also Placentia Community Night. Tickets are $3.50 per person and can be ordered through the Chamber of Commerce at 528-1873.

The jackets to be distributed are white with the Angels insignia across the chest in blue and red. Each jacket comes in its own handy carrying case and features a detachable rain-hood. Small, medium and large sizes will be available. Last year's inaugural Jacket Night was a sellout as 43,112 watched the Angels beat Boston.

A DANCE ROUTINE is performed by Placentia Mat Rat Cathy Maertzweller, as other gymnasts wait their turn [picture above, next column].

Placentians Perform At The Fair

PLACENTIA MAT RATS go through their routines as stars of Placentia Day at the Orange County Fair. In the line are Mary Mirko, Cathy Maertzweller, Dienna Garafolo, Marnie Fleming, Sarah McPherson, Jamie Harris, Cindy Morris, Theresa Mirko, Ann Walcek and Stella Hall [top picture].

TUMBLING DOWN the mats, doing handstands rolls, are Dienna Garafolo; Marnie Fleming, Jamie Harris and standing Cindy Morris, Ann Walcek, Stella Hall and Sarah McPherson [lower picture].

NOT PICTURED are Felicia Aldrich, Cheryl Binalsz, Margaret Kirchner, Tina Morretino, Jodi Shettler and Sara White. The club accepts girls from ages 7 to 14.

FlemingBike Wins Race

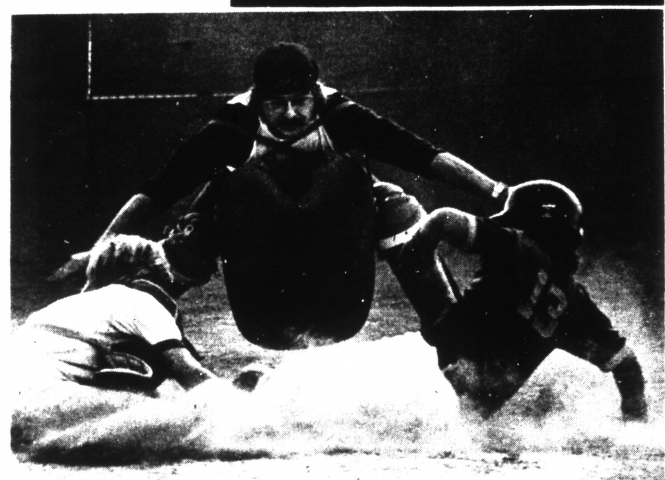

Frank Fleming of Yorba Linda, riding a Yamaha, placed first in Class 27 among the Class 21 entries in this year's Bilstein Baja Internacional.

The off-road race was the largest in Baja racing history. Fleming was one of 83 motorcycle riders who competed. He had the same figure for elapsed and accumulated elapsed time of 1 hour, 18 minutes. His average speed was 37.69 miles per hour.

The results of the competition were reported by SCORE International News which also reported that the Fairway Ford team of Dick Landsford of Yorba Linda and B. Eikelberger of Long Beach placed sixth among Class 7 entries.

The team had the same elapsed time and accumulated elapsed time of 1 hour, 23 minutes and 49 seconds. The average speed was 35.21 miles per hour.

FLYING HIGH is Cindy Morris as she entertains Orange County Fair goers at Placentia Day Friday [picture to the right].

YER SAFE—Umpire Jim Clements gives the classic signal as an Athletic player eludes the tag of Ranger catcher Ronny Berger. The run was the ninth and final one for the Athletics as they lost the championship game in the Yorba Linda Little League's American West division, 14-9.

Wimbledon West Net Tourney

Tennis buffs will have a chance to compete this year again at the annual mixed doubles championships, sponsored by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

Anyone is invited to participate at this event, which has been sanctioned by the Orange County Tennis Association.

Players 19 years and over are eligible for A B C D and novice divisions. The mixed open division will accept all ages. The novice division, which is new to tournament play is being offered to players who have not been in tournament competition and tournament director Jim Straw hopes that it will appeal to a broad spectrum of tennis fans.

USTA rules will govern play and all matches will be the best of three sets. Players must enter as a team, no pairing will be made by the committee. The entry fee is $25 per team with a deadline for entry being Wednesday.

August 4, 1978.

Concluding the championships will be a presentation of 24 trophies to the lucky winners and runners-up in each division. There will be refreshments and door prizes, fun and excitement. Please contact the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce office for more information at 675-9500.

A Kick-off party and an exhibition match will be held July 22, at 5 p.m. at the Newport Beach Tennis Club.

USC Coach to Speak

The Orange County Trojan Club announces their 15th annual USC coaches football banquet to be held Wednesday, August 4th, at the Santa Ana Elks Lodge, 201 Mabury, Santa Ana (1st St. and the Santa Ana Freeway).

Head USC Football Coach, John Robinson will be the featured speaker. Robinson will tell all about the coming USC football season.

He will go into detail concerning the talent on the USC football team, especially the many all conference and CIF high school players who have signed their National Letters of Intent to enroll at USC.

Robinson will also talk about that age old USC question, "Quarterback."

Quarterback, Who's going to play Quarterback?"

Dinner Chairperson, Bob Citron stated that in previous years the banquets have been sell-outs. For that reason, paid reservations should be made before August 1st, by sending $12.50 per person to him at 1126 Sharon Rd., Santa Ana, 92706. Any additional information may be obtained by calling (714) 835-6850.

Citron stated that a social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m., with the dinner beginning at 7:30 p.m. This will be Coach Robinson's only Orange County public appearance this year.

Santa Ana Valley High School Class of 1966 is planning their 10-year class reunion. Anyone interested in information may call (714) 997-5096 or 649-2843.

EYE OPENERS

BY Bob Frankeny

Little ones can swallow aspirin and other pills more easily if the pill is "greased up" in a teaspoon of applesauce.

Neat way to mothproof: put moth crystals in jar with holes punched in lid, set jar on closet shelf.

To remove a bandage from a child's skin without hurting, wet it with baby oil first.

For family travels or picnics, take along a plastic bottle of liquid soap. Handy for spills, dirty hands, cutlery.

You can clean clogged letters on typewriter keys by pressing on a strip of adhesive tape and then lifting it off.
